

MARCH FOR THE FUTURE

Our colleges and state universities in Connecticut have suffered from constant attacks. Austerity, privatization, divestment, restructuring -- all of these have harmed the vital system of public higher education that so many residents depend on to gain an affordable education and thrive in life and so many businesses depend on for qualified, skilled employees.

We are marching from Capital Community College to the State Capitol to call on our elected officials to move forward, not backward, by protecting and expanding the public colleges and universities that CT needs to ensure a true Recovery for All.
